About the Award

The Center for Nonprofit Advancement's Board Leadership Award competition recognizes and spotlights outstanding nonprofit Boards of Directors in the Washington area.

This award competition recognizes the role that Boards play in building and sustaining successful organizations—ensuring their nonprofits are well led, well supported, and responsive to the people and communities they serve.

Standards of practice in governance are increasingly embraced by organizations of all sizes and at all stages of development. The Board Leadership Award competition is an effort to acknowledge Boards that have exerted their leadership in an exemplary way. Boards will need to have demonstrated a steady track record of good governance, excellent support, improvement and notable achievements for their organization. Previous winners include Martha's Table, ISPU, Carpenter's Shelter, and Friends of the Library Montgomery County.

The Purpose

The purpose of the Board Leadership Award is to strengthen and promote nonprofit organizations by acknowledging exemplary governance in the sector and providing a process that encourages all to learn and improve. The Award also strives to lift up the principles, criteria, and best practices that represent exemplary governance.

The Board Leadership Award competition is owned and administered by the Center for Nonprofit Advancement. CohnReznick serves as the presenting sponsor of this award. Additional support is provided by BoardSource.

Award Winning Grants

The selection process is based on the work of the entire Board. One winner and up to two honorable mentions will be selected. The winner will receive a $10,000 grant for their nonprofit organization. Honorable mentions will each receive a $1,000 grant. Winning and honorable mention organizations will also receive communication exposure and training and development opportunities for the Board and CEO. The decision of the Selection Committee is final.

Award recipients whose organizations are not members of the Center for Nonprofit Advancement at the time of the Award presentation in July will be granted Center membership. Membership dues will be deducted from the recipient's grant award. The recipient will have full access to resources, goods and services available to Center members for a 12-month period.

What does an outstanding Board look like?

An outstanding Board will demonstrate that, by challenging itself, it has made a meaningful difference in the life of the organization. An outstanding Board will have moved beyond recommended fundamental roles and responsibilities to bring new levels of leadership and focus within the Board that deliver results for the organization.

There is a presumption that Boards nominated for the award can demonstrate adherence to fundamental board practices, including support for the mission • respect for staff leaders • sound recruitment practices • a common commitment to diversity in perspectives and representation • participating actively in board affairs • prudent oversight of financial and program matters • personal generosity • and thoughtful, well informed decision making. Boards will be expected to confirm that fundamental practices are in place as part of the review process.

The recipients of the Board Leadership Award will demonstrate to other Boards and organizations in the Washington region the value of approaching governance with the goal of moving beyond fundamental Board practices and toward making the most of the Board's composition and contributions to organizational effectiveness and growth.

Judging Criteria:

Feedback

All applicants will receive brief written comments on their Part One application from the Selection Committee. This feedback is shared with the organization's primary contact via e-mail within 60 days of notification that the organization is no longer in consideration for the Award. (In other words, applicants invited to complete Part Two will not receive feedback on their Part One application. They will receive feedback if they are not selected as a finalist.)

Finalists will receive comments after the award process is complete. Applicants can also contact a member of the Center's staff for additional feedback or guidance after the selection process has been completed. At the discretion of the Center's staff, finalists may be able to contact the chair of the Selection Committee for additional perspective.

The Nomination and Selection

A committee of distinguished members of the business, philanthropic and nonprofit sectors will review all nominations and identify candidates to advance in the selection process. The nomination and selection process includes three stages:

Part One

1. Nomination: All eligible Board Leadership Award candidates must be nominated. Nominations can be made by the Executive Director/President/CEO in cooperation with the Board Chair and other board members, or by external stakeholders, such as funders, donors and recipients of the organization's services. Nominations without the acknowledgement of the organization's Board Chair and Executive Director will not be accepted. Only one nomination per organization will be considered.

Part Two

2. Interview: The Selection Committee will determine the nominees selected for interviews. Any additional information required by the committee will be requested at this point. The Executive Director and knowledgeable Board members, including the Board chair and the chair of the committee responsible for the achievement described in the application, will participate in an interview that explores the basis of the nomination and the philosophy, action, experiences and impact of the board.

Part Three

3. Site Visit: The Selection Committee will determine the nominees to be selected for site visits. The Selection Committee may request additional information to be presented during this site visit. The Executive Director and knowledgeable Board members, including the Board Chair must be present.

Finals

4. Selection: After the site visit, one of these finalists will be awarded the Board Leadership Award and up to two will be awarded honorable mention. The decision of the Selection Committee is final.

Award Selection and Awardee Responsibilities

The Board Leadership Award winners will be announced through the Center’s communications and local news outlets. The Award winner’s representatives will be expected to attend events and/or other meetings and make themselves available for interviews and written publications through which their outstanding Board leadership ideas and practices will be shared with others in the community. The Award winner and honorable mentions are required to participate in the Award presentation activities.
